NEW STEAM-COMBI RANGE COOKERS

now available from Bradshaw

Steel renowned throughout Europe for its quality and beautifully designed professional range cookers and kitchen appliances, has now introduced a new steam function to the main oven of their A-rated dual fuel range cookers. Range cookers are also fitted with a reservoir meaning no plumbing in is required. The steam-combi oven option is available in both the Genesi and Ascot designs.

A few of the Steel range cooker features...

- Steam generator for a combination of traditional steam cooking into the same 65 litres high performance oven.

- Pizza stone
- Cast metal knobs
- One-touch" ignition system
- "Cool" triple-glazed oven reduced heat loss

- Telescopic liners
- Stainless steel easy clean cavity
- Fully moulded hob with wide rounded corners for quick and effective cleaning

- LED Timer Control
- High-performance "air-tight seal" burners, safety valve and grids made from enamelled cast iron with anti-scratch rubber pads

The Steel range cookers offer gas and electric hob options with a variety of cooking configurations to compliment the ovens. With trim options too, and the newly added colour panels the range provides something for all tastes, kitchen needs and design demands.
